STATE OF MAINE.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE, Augusta, March 1, 1866

CIRCULAR

THE Act of the 22d of February last, providing pensions for certain classes of disabled soldiers and the widows and minor children of those deceased) of the War of 1861 will necessarily impose upon the State Department duties somewhat analagous to those of the Pension Bureau at Washington; though of a comparatively limited character. Considerable time will therefore be required by the Council, in whom is vested the supervision of this new department of business, in determining the mode of procedure and preparing the requisite blanks therefor

Early in the ensuing May session of that Honorable body forms and regulations, with a copy of the law, will be promulgated.

Applicants under this statute, who are, or may be, in the receipt of a pension from the United States Government, will not require the assistance of agents or attorneys in preparing or presenting their claims for the State pension.

DETROIT, April 27

The loss to the Detroit and Milwaukee R R by the fire last night will reach $200,000, and the Michigan Southern will lose $20,000

WASHINGTON, April 27

The report of the agricultural department for March show that great interest has been taken to prevent the importation of cattle disease, and that measures have been adopted for that purpose

Reports concerning the present condition of crops are conflicting, and though the severe cold of last winter killed the tops of wheat unprotected by snow, it is believed that the roots were not destroyed

PORTLAND, Me, April 29

A brick stable in Temple street, owned by C H Adams and occupied by H L Taylor & Co, was this morning burned, together with five horses, four valued at $1000 each, all the carriages, harnesses, fodder and fixtures Loss quite large Taylor & Co were insured for $2500 The building adjoining was also burned in the upper story It was occupied as a bowling alley

WONDERFUL SCENE A writer in the Honolulu Friend was an eye witness to the eruption of the volcanic mountain, Manua Loa, on the Island of Hawaii It commenced near the summit and sent down its burning floods along the northwestern slope for two days and then suddenly ceased After thirty six hours the lava burst out vertically about half way down the mountain, sending a column of glowing liquid fire one thousand feet into the air This jet was about one hundred feet in diameter, and continued for twenty days to rise into the air to a height varying from 500 to 1000 feet This terrific fluid was accompanied with explosions which shook the hills, and the thunder of its progress was heard at the distance of forty miles At its first issue from the orifice it was at a white heat; as it ascended higher and higher it changed to deep blood red, and finally fell almost black to the earth

In a few days a cone nearly three hundred feet high was raised, a vast heap of glowing coals hotter than all the fiery furnaces of the world, and awfully suggestive of the destructive force of the great chemical laboratory of nature From this molten fountain, a mile in circumference, a broad river of fire went rushing down the mountain side, filling up valleys, tumbling over precipices, burning through the woods and evaporating the water of the streams and pools in great wreaths of murky steam and vapor which filled all the sky All Eastern Hawaii was a sheet of light, and night was turned into day At sea the light was visible for two hundred miles, the point from which the fire issued being ten thousand feet above the level of the ocean The rivers of fire from this mountain flowed about thirty-five miles and stopped within ten miles of the coast In the daytime the atmosphere for many square miles was filled with a murky haze, through which the sunbeams shed a pale and ghastly light The air was filled with the little filaments called Pele's hair, and with stifling ashes It was a scene such as few would care to witness, and one which the dweller in more temperate climes would not wish to run the risk of for all the beauties and rare productions of the tropics

KEROSENE OIL—Its Explosiveness The great number of serious accidents reported from various quarters resulting from this source makes its explosiveness a subject of much importance. The Traveller says that three deaths have been caused by it in Lowell within a few weeks The subject is now before the Legislature, and efforts are being made to enact a stringent law to prevent the adulterations now believed to be freely practiced Some of the testimony is very important, and gives the knowledge of facts with which all should be made familiar, as they give a simple and safe plan by which any one can accurately test the danger or safety of oil before using it

Dr. J W Huntoon of Boston was called and in the course of his testimony remarked that good kerosene oil was not explosive or inflammable to any dangerous degree whatever, but that it is only when it has an excess of benzine or some other inflammable substance that it becomes dangerous; and the following test was given before the committee with perfect success, as showing the difference between oil sufficiently pure to be safe, and that which is otherwise

Fill a tumbler three-fourths full of moderately cool water, and then pour one-half table spoonful of oil to it; stir it together then hold a lighted match over it, and if it takes fire from the vapor before the flame comes in contact with the oil, it is dangerous and ought not to be used, as good oil will not thus ignite, and will not burn readily even when a lighted match is thrown into it, but most of the adulterated oil will burn freely All refined oil manufacturers corroborate this testimony

A ROMANTIC STORY The arrival at Paris of the German poet, philosopher and publicist, Gottfried Kinkel, has reminded a correspondent there of an adventure of the stormy times of '48 in Germany, in which Kinkel and Carl Schurz well known in this country as soldier, politician and journalist were engaged When the Revolution broke out, Kinkel was a professor, and Schurz then not twenty years old, a student at Bonn—Both took prominent parts in the struggle, both were captured, tried and sentenced, the professor to imprisonment and hard labor for life, and the student to be shot Schurz escaped across the French frontier, but could not leave his friend and teacher in his dreary confinement He disguised himself in rags, and returned to Prussia as an organ grinder, begging his bread by day, and visiting the friends of liberty by night, and thus traveled many hundred miles, only to find that Kinkel's prison had been changed, and that he was confined in the fortress at Spandau Schurz now changed his tactics, and had recourse to stratagem Late one night a carriage, escorted by four dragoons, drove into Spandau to the fortress; and an officer in the uniform of a colonel of the royal guard delivered to the director a letter bearing the official seal of the Minister of the Interior at Berlin It ordered him to send the prisoner Kinkel at once, in charge of the bearer of the letter, to the citadel of Magdeburg Kinkel was awakened, securely ironed and placed in the carriage It travelled rapidly all night, the escort of dragoons and the magic words 'the King's service,' insuring prompt relays of horses every where In the morning the prisoner was taken out, and found himself not at another prison, but on the sea shore, close under the guns of an English vessel, to which he was immediately transferred On her deck he found his wife and children, and in the colonel who had borne him away he recognized his friend and Carl Schurz in a new disguise The dragoons it is needless to say, were also confederates in the plot Kinkel has since resided in England and France, unable to return to his own country but Carl Schurz has since then been back at leisure and with out disguise to his birthplace, unmolested by any one—for though a condemned felon he was a diplomatic representative of one of the most powerful of nations and bore as his safeguard a commission signed by Abraham Lincoln

Mr Boutwell this morning presented in the House a protest against the passage of the bill to reorganize the Federal Judiciary, now pending in the House, signed by John A Andrew B R Curtis, S Bartlett C B Goodrich, John A Loring, H W Paine, George S Hillard, Isaac P Redfield Ivers J Alstin, Chasten Browne Francis A Brooks W G Russell and other members of the Boston Bar

The Second Auditor and Paymaster General estimates that fifteen years would be required to settle the claims arising under the proposed law for the equalization of bounties. The business now in the Second Auditor's office is sufficient to keep the present clerical force of 300 men employed five years the number of claims filed on the first of April being 410,559 The number of claims acted upon and disposed of in March was 26,078

The total amount of prize money awarded since the beginning of the war is about twenty two millions of dollars, one half of which went to the officers and seamen of capturing vessels, and the other half to the credit of the Naval Hospital fund

There is no truth in the statement which has been telegraphed over the country that the Secretary of the Treasury has determined to place upon the market a new five per cent loan

It is estimated at the Fourth Auditor's office, which has the sole control of the settlement of naval accounts, that upwards of thirty millions of dollars will be required to equalize the bounties of sailors alone—[Special to Boston Adv

THE BURDELL MURDER The following is the story about the Burdell murder, which we referred to on Saturday

A man named Charles H Golden, now lying in Newburyport jail, on the charge of larceny, has made a confession which, if true, unravels the mystery of the murder of Dr Burdell, in New York, some nine years since, for which crime Mrs Cunningham was tried, but acquitted Golden states that young Snodgrass, murdered Dr Burdell and gives the following account

'When in jail, he (Golden) volunteered to Marshal Westcott to make confession of crime, saying that he had carried the burden on his soul long enough, and it was nothing more or less than his knowledge and connection with the Burdell murder in the city of New York in 1857. His story is that he was then living in New York a dealer in jewelry, and boarding with Frederick J Kody, No 64 James Street He became acquainted with Mrs Cunningham, and from time to time made her presents, often visited the house of Dr. Burdell, where he was intimate with Mrs Cunningham and her two daughters, frequently stopping there day and night know Snodgrass, who appeared in the trial as the particular friend of the elder daughter, while he, Golden, was the "lovyer" of the younger, Augusta He overheard Mrs C and Snodgrass talking of a child, she saying that if Dr. Burdell was out of the way she could obtain the property She said that she could not trust Dr Eckel, who was stopping there, with the job, but Charley, meaning himself, was a good hand and in her confidence A short time after this conversation, on the night of the murder, at which time he was engaged to attend the theatre with Miss Augusta, Mrs C held a conversation with him, saying that the property was soon to be hers, inquiring if he had the heart of an ox, and if he would have scruples to commit crime if it would bring him $25,000 "You know, Charley," she continued, "that Dr Burdell is worth $100,000, and you and Augusta shall have $20,000 of it" She handed him a dirk, and asked him if he would do anything for Augusta's sake Then, his story is, that he threw the knife upon the table, and soon after left for the theatre, Mrs C telling Snodgrass that "Charley had caved"

On their return, at half past one, he noticed the smoky smell in the street, met Mrs C. with a napkin stained with blood, saw Snodgrass in his room, the bosom of his shirt stained with blood, as he said from the nose bleed, and went to bed feeling that the murder had been committed.

Early the next morning, when there were outcries of murder, Mrs. C. advised him to leave the house as soon as possible, to get out of New York, and if possible go to England. She gave him $900 to pay his expense, insisting that he should not visit the house again; saying that the property was

DR J W POLAND'S

HUMOR DOCTOR.

This excellent medicinal remedy was first prepared by Dr P in 1847 and was then employed with great success in expelling humors from the blood but in 1848, a medical friend who was quite celebrated as a physician especially in the treatment of humors suggested some important improvements, which were adopted, and which have made it (so the people say) the very best remedy for all kinds of humors known to the faculty This preparation is composed wholly of vegetables, among which are Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock Burdock Noble Pine, Mandrake, Senna and Bloodroot. Suffice it to say, the Doctor is used in hundreds of families as a general medicine Unlike many other popular remedies, it is very grateful to the taste

Settlement of the Mexican Question—Our Notice to Europe.

We regard the diplomatic correspondence of our government with that of France, and the instructions sent by Mr. Seward to our Minister at the Austrian Court, recently published, as decisive evidence of the settlement of the "Mexican question", so called. That is, it amounts to a notice to quit towards France, and a notice for "hands off" on the part of Austria and of every other European Government in the affairs of this continent. These notices will be respected, too, as we think. Napoleon promises to leave. He is not anxious for trouble with the United States—not only having business enough just now on his own little continent, but having had a wholesome illustration, during our recent war, of the resources of our country, and of what the Yankees can do in the fighting line,—and if Napoleon is not desirous to try his strength with the United States, who is? Not Austria—and we therefore put it down as settled that Austria will send no troops to help Maximilian hold Mexico, and that Max, not being able to fight it out alone, will retire to his "ancestral halls" in disgust before the ides of another March.

Thus the principle of the "Monroe doctrine", as it applies to European intervention in the affairs of this continent, may be said to be definitely established by our government—and any one or more European governments which may hereafter attempt to intervene against independent republics on this side of the Atlantic, for the subversion of their forms of government, will have the United States to deal with. During our own internal war, our government could not effectively give notice to this effect—but we are now in a position to vindicate free government, the government of the people—on our own shores—against the world, if necessary.

It is true, as many have said, that it might be for the immediate apparent benefit of Mexico to have a strong monarchy established, under French or other protection. It would at least furnish the people of that country with a government of some permanence, if not a free government—and would perhaps be a relief, after the revulsions and anarchies of the last forty years. In that light many have hoped that our government would not interfere. But we do not thus regard the matter. It is in fact questionable whether Mexico would be any better off beneath an Austrian and French despotism than in her old chronic condition of revolution—and then as long as her people, under one leader or another, have control of their own country, there is a prospect and a probability that there will at last arise a leader of integrity, patriotism and power enough to establish republican government upon a firm basis. The people are making progress—slow though it may appear—and in God's good time their beautiful and wonderful country will begin to perform its part in the great drama of a free and emancipated world. Our duty, as the guardians of Liberty in its vast home of this western continent, is clear. We must suffer no foothold to be obtained here by despotic or aristocratic governments. God has now plainly given us the power to enforce this principle, and it is our duty to do it.

Southern Loyalty.

The New York Observer, says the Tribune, has ever been one of the most earnest and thorough champions of what passes here for Conservatism. It has been pro-Southern, if not absolutely pro-Slavery. Yet it speaks out in its last as follows:

PROGRESS OF LOYAL FEELING.

We watch with anxiety the manifestations of Southern feeling toward the government of the United States. It is well known to all the readers of this paper that we have strenuously urged the speediest possible restoration of the insurgent States to their old status in the Union, and that we desire the return of peace in all relations, civil, social and ecclesiastical. It will surprise some to know that we have pursued this course, while many at the South are writing us that we are going too fast, that the state of feeling does not justify immediate restoration, that so much of the war-spirit still prevails that the people cannot send Union men to Congress. But we have felt that kindness was the most effectual means of conciliation, and that the war had forever settled the question of secession and nationality. We have been willing to trust the South, and to restore the harmony of the Republic with the least possible delay.

But we are pained by the necessity of saying that the information we get from the South does not encourage us to labor in this direction. Particularly is the intelligence unfavorable in regard to the ministers of the South. A pastor in one of the Southern States writes as follows:

"It is a fact that the ministers of the Gospel in the South, who have generally returned to their parishes, are almost without exception bitterly opposed to the government and are exerting all their influence against loyalty and reconstruction. It is the opinion of candid, loyal men that they are exerting a stronger influence in that direction than any other class of men in the South.

"These ministers teach their people not to listen to any propositions for aid in supplying preaching for the destitute; or organizing and furnishing Sunday Schools; unless these funds be put in the hands of true Southern men, go for their support, and to advance their principles.

"A Christian gentleman, who has recently visited every town in nine counties in this State, on business, and made this a special subject of inquiry, says it was the testimony of the best men everywhere that no Northern missionary or Sunday School agent would be safe from personal violence. The spirit is bitter, very bitter, and, so far as I can see, grows worse."

Of what use, then, is it that we of the North advocate the restoration of the South to her status in the Union, when the clergy still preach hostility to the government, and the Mayor of Mobile, with the approbation of his fellow-citizens, pays public honors to "President" Davis? To us it seems wonderful that men can expect to have the confidence, support and material aid of the North, while they thus continue to nurture and spread a feeling of disloyalty and positive hostility to the government under which they live.

The Bangor Democrat informs its readers that "the democracy will meet the radicals next fall, hand to hand and toe to toe." The democracy are very brave whenever a fight is to be made against the friends of free government—provided it is not a fight with gunpowder and steel. They threatened to meet us with "52,000 democrats", when our armies went out to "coerce" rebels in 1861, but they thought better of it. They have since tried a fight at the ballot boxes several times, but have not been remarkably successful. We hope they will try again.—They evidently hope to have President Johnson as a leader—but he says he will have nothing to do with them—well knowing that if such an army backs him he can meet nothing but defeat.

EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS. Considerable interest has been excited by tenor of the President's recent appointments to office, in order to discover his policy in that respect. In one case a relative of Wade Hampton, the rebel, has been appointed a postmaster in Pennsylvania. There is no reason, however, to infer the disloyalty of the appointee from his kinship. But the material fact is, that he has been selected against the remonstrance of the Republican member of Congress from the same district. In New Jersey, two or three official incumbents, said to be "radicals", have been displaced to make room for "Johnson conservatives".—In Ohio, Gen. S. F. Carey, the well-known temperance lecturer and anti-slavery man, has been appointed to a collectorship; but then he prevailed over the favorite of the Ohio delegation, in consequence, it is supposed, of the recommendation of a relative who is a member of the "National Johnson Club". These are fair specimens of recent appointments, and it is rumored that there are to be many "more of the same sort".

There are rumors current upon this subject—hints about an understanding between the President's friends and the Democratic managers to the effect that the appointment of avowed Democrats would be inadvisable; that the first step is to break up the Republican party, which can best be accomplished by running the line of division through it by means of discriminative appointments; and that when that is done, the allied conservatives and Democrats will appropriate and enjoy the spoils of victory. All well enough, if that is to be the programme, and the people understand it. In that case, the United States would have a word to say on the confirmation of appointments. The Republican party has not lost its ability to shift its tactics to meet any new assaults from the same old foes. The loyal masses of the country have their eyes fixed upon the security of those grand results for which their best blood has been shed, and they are not to be cheated out of it by any hocus-pocus of demagogues and spoilsmen.—[Boston Journal.

The violent endorsement of the President by his former enemies, reminds us of a little story:

"Miss Bridget O'Toole entered on board a ship with good testimonials of character from her former employers. As bad luck would have it, her papers got lost overboard; in her distress she called on the captain to aid and advise her. The good hearted seaman at once sat down and wrote and signed the following:—'This is to certify that Miss Bridget O'Toole had a good character when she came on board my ship, but lost it on passage'."

The Democrats can certify that President Johnson had a good character before falling into their embraces, but all else they say in his favor is only proof that he has lost his political character.—[Hallowell Gazette.

A "great" Johnson meeting was held at Brooklyn, N. Y., on Wednesday last. When we say that the principal speakers were John Van Buren, Hon. Mr. Dawson, of Georgia, Rosseau of Kentucky, and Postmaster Cleveland of Hartford, the character of the meeting will be evident.

CONNECTICUT. The candidates spoken of for the United States Senator from Connecticut are Mr. Foster, the present incumbent, ex-Governor Buckingham and Gen. O. S. Ferry. The latter gentleman has served as member of the House of Representatives.

EXPLOSION. Owing to the ignition of the vapor of naptha in the Providence Rubber Works, on Friday morning, an explosion took place which demolished entirely a triangular portion of the two story building, about one hundred feet long and fifty feet across. About one hundred feet more of the same building was unroofed and badly shattered, while the south wall of the four story building was torn so that it will have to be taken down and the extreme corner of that building demolished! No one was hurt within the building, but one man outside was bruised by falling bricks. A fire followed, which the department managed to quench. A lot of goods was destroyed. The buildings were fully insured.

A WIDOW SEEKING A FORTUNE. A breach of promise suit has been instituted against Michael Reese, the richest man in San Francisco, by a widow with two children. The damages are estimated by the plaintiff at $100,000.

—The New York Daily News has an exaggerated idea of the prison accommodations at the disposal of the government. It calls on President Johnson to put in close confinement "Congress and all who oppose his policy.—[Boston Adv.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞Chlosma, or Mothpatch, (also Liverspot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than a brunnette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either; and any preparation that will effectually remove them without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. Perry, who has made diseases of the skin a speciality, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

Thirty-Ninth Congress.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, April 28.

HOUSE.

Several speeches were made, after which the House adjourned.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

—We notice by the Chicago Republican that Fred. B. Smith, son of Geo. R. Smith, Esq., of this city, has become a partner in the house of S. C. Griggs & Co., of Chicago, one of the largest if not the largest bookstore in the Northwest. The firm of Griggs & Co., started sixteen years ago and has preserved its standing through all the hard times which have afflicted the western country—steadily increasing in prosperity, until it counts its business by hundreds of thousands yearly. The Republican says of Mr. Smith that "through a five years clerkship he has by his quiet industry and accurate knowledge of books, editors and authors, made himself widely known throughout the Northwest among careful book buyers, and gained the confidence of those who make additions to their libraries." We are pleased to notice the success of Bangor boys, and trust the house will continue its prosperity.

THE INSIDE ROUTE. We are indebted to Mr. Holmes, Clerk, and Mr. Mitchell, baggage master, of the steamer Lady Lang for Boston evening papers in advance of the mail. We learn from Mr. Holmes that the Regulator will soon be released from its charter by government, and on the 14th of May will go on to the line between here and Portland. Arrangements have been completed for a steamboat train to connect with Boston, leaving both Portland and Boston at 6 o'clock p. m. The boats will leave Portland at 11 p. m. for the Penobscot, instead of 10 as at present.

DR. HAMLIN'S CHOLERA REMEDIES.—There is a serious mistake in the formula of Dr. Hamlin's cholera specifics as published in several religious and other journals. The first prescription is stated thus: 1, laudanum and spirits of camphor. 2, tincture of rhubarb—equal parts—in consequence of which apothecaries have made the mistake of putting up one-half laudanum and camphor, and one-half rhubarb; whereas there should be equal parts each of laudanum, rhubarb and camphor—a material difference.

MAY DAY SALES. F. H. Duffy, at his green house, Hampden road, and A. Sekenger, York street, will hold May Day sales to-morrow, giving those in want of choice plants an opportunity for making their selections. See their advertisements.

—We are indebted to Mr. Crane of the Penobscot River Express for Boston papers in advance of the mail, per steamer Katahdin.

—Dr. Hamlin's Essay on the Cholera and the best methods of prevention and cure, based upon his experience of the disease in Constantinople, can be had in pamphlet form at Bugbee & Co's.

MAY BREAKFAST. The patriotic young ladies of this city will give a breakfast May morning (to-morrow) at City Hall for the benefit of the Freedmen. The Hall will be open at 7½ a. m., and be kept open during the day. Choice plants and Mayflowers will be kept for sale. A committee will remain in the Hall to-day to receive donations for the tables. The occasion promises to be highly interesting, and as the object is one that appeals to every philanthropic heart, we hope to be able to chronicle its entire success.

A SMART OLD LADY. Mrs. Dorcas Garland, of Dixmont, aged 80 years, has during the past year spun 300 skeins of yarn, besides doing her house work and considerable knitting, and is still smart, doing house work and knitting as usual.

ORONO, April 28.

The following officers were elected at an annual meeting of the Tiger Engine Company No. 1, of Orono, April 27:

Nathan Allen, Foreman.
N. Wilson, Jr., 2d do.
J. L. Clark, Foreman of Hose.
E. H. B. Wilson, 2d do.
Albion Frost, 3d do.
Wm S. Averill, Clerk.
H. Dennett, Treasurer.
Aldamon Mann, Steward.

WM. AVERILL, Clerk.

—We see by the eastern papers that our friend, Dr. Carpenter, is having a very successful professional season in Machias, Eastport, Calais, and other towns in that region.

—The Calais Advertiser says that Jones C. Haycock has received an appointment in the Custom House department as Inspector of Lumber for that river. Stringent measures have been taken to prevent smuggling in that vicinity.

—The Brunswick Telegraph says it is expected that the monument to the late Prof. Cleveland will be erected over his remains before commencement. The monument will be of granite.

—The new tax bill will give great relief to the shipping interest of the country, and the State of Maine is peculiarly interested in this feature of the bill. Masts, spars, sails, rigging, &c., will be freed from taxation, and the two per cent. tax on hulls of vessels is abolished.

—The Argus says that the steamer City of Richmond arrived on Friday, returning from her first trip eastward. She brought up seventy-five passengers. The boat behaved splendidly, and made a speed of eighteen miles an hour with ease. The people at the various places along the route received her with genuine enthusiasm.

—We learn from the Belfast Age that the house, barn and outbuildings of Mr. Edward Brown, the house of Mr. Gardiner Brown and the shop of Warren Moody of Liberty, on the road between Liberty village and Light's Corner, were all consumed by fire on Wednesday of last week.

—The Calais Advertiser says that Mr. John J. Russell of Baring was killed on Saturday last. While removing a railroad car loaded with lumber from one part of the track to another with his horse, it being down grade, the car got to going too fast, and as he stepped before it to unhitch the horse from it, he slipped down and the car ran over his leg and body and killed him.

—The Machias Republican, in view of the existence of cholera in New York, suggests that some of the boys down east would do well to wash their faces before hot weather comes on.

SOMETHING NEW ABOUT BUTTONS. The Portland Argus speaks of a new invention in buttons recently patented by Capt. J. J. Boyd of that city, which will work a revolution in that branch of tailoring if it works well in practice. It says that by this invention buttons can be attached to any part of wearing apparel without the use of thread, and can be almost instantly applied and removed. The attaching of the button makes no hole, cuts no threads in the cloth, leaves no mark when removed, and is held in its place with perfect security. The invention consists solely in making the button with a spiral wire to be inserted into the cloth like a cork screw, and then pressed down flat so as to form a ring to hold the button in place. We certainly are of the opinion that this is one of the most effective and useful inventions that has ever been introduced, and bids fair to revolutionize the whole system of Button Manufacture, as heretofore in use.

NEW BOOK. "IN TRUST; or Dr. Bernard's Household," by Amanda M. Douglass, is the title of a new novel just issued by Lee & Shepard, Boston, and for sale here by Bugbee & Co. It is of the higher order of works of fiction, written with that true genius which has high moral and spiritual aims, and whose mission is to improve and elevate the human mind. As a story it is full of incident and well sustained; but its chief value is in its inculcations of good principle and the faithful discharge of duty.

STAGE ACCIDENT. The Rockland Gazette says that during the thunder-storm of Saturday evening, April 21st, as the Mail Stage from Bath was passing through Newcastle, the horses becoming frightened by the lightning, which is supposed to have struck near by, shied from the road, and upset the coach which contained nine passengers, and that Mr. Z. Simmons of Rockland had his shoulder very badly broken.

—The Episcopal Recorder of Philadelphia, and the Christian Times of New York, have been united, and the title of the journal which springs out of this union will be "The Episcopalian." It will be published in Philadelphia and New York.

—The project of holding a great Methodist Convention in Boston, meets with favor in the denomination. The Convention will meet in Grace Church, Thursday, June 5th.

THE ANNIVERSARY AT BUCKSPORT. We should have said in our notice of the Anniversary of the East Maine Conference Seminary this week that among the other exercises there will be original declamations and essays by the Students on Thursday, forenoon, and an Alumni Dinner on Thursday at 3 o'clock. The exercises to close with an address from Gen. Chamberlain on Thursday evening. Gen. C.'s well known ability will undoubtedly draw a crowded house.

—We learn from the Hallowell Gazette that Mr. Mark Means, one of the oldest residents of that town died last week.

—The Waterville Mail very properly and very humanely contends that the practice of shearing sheep early in the spring is a cruel, as well as an unprofitable practice, unless the owners are fully prepared to house and protect the animals during the cold nights and days in which our climate abounds up to the first of June. We suppose that depriving sheep of their warm garments in the early spring is the cause of more disease and death among them than all other causes combined. If any one doubts it, let him turn himself out-of-doors with no other covering than his shirt, during any three or four consecutive nights in April or May, and see how it will affect the human frame.

—The Hallowell Gazette says: When we see the copperhead party bestow so much praise upon President Johnson, we are reminded of an old Cornish legend, wherein a certain giant killed one of his darling favorites by patting him on the head.

—Capt. Charles A. Boutelle, late of the U. S. Navy, whose record during the war has been a highly honorable one, has bought a house in Augusta, with the intention of making that city his residence, as we learn from the Farmer.

—A writer in the Rockland Gazette is ably urging the people of Knox and Waldo counties to aid the Wiscasset and Richmond railroad, with the view of ultimately securing its extension to Penobscot Bay.

—The Waterville Mail says that Thomas S. Lang, Esq., of Vassalboro', is gradually recovering from his long and severe illness.

—We learn from the Rockland Gazette that Captain Levi Gilchrist, a well known ship-master of Thomaston, died suddenly in his bed on Tuesday evening last.

—We learn from the Mail that Mr. Wm. H. Hudson, late of Kendall's Mills, has been chosen Mayor of Marysville, Cal.

—The Calais Advertiser is informed that citizens of that city, living within a radius of one mile of the Calais Bank, have deposited in that institution, in United States Bonds, upward of five hundred thousand dollars.

—There are twenty-eight religious societies in Portland. Within twenty-five years thirteen new churches have been erected, and six rebuilt or renovated externally or internally. So says the Press.

—The Oxford Democrat says that the house of Joseph Frye at Bryant's Pond was destroyed by fire on Sunday of last week.

—A great many of our Southern friends are going North. The fee a curiosity to see what on earth whipped them so.—[Louisville Journal.

—Deer Isle is making history. There are five new cases for divorce from that Island on the new docket; and what is singular, and also bad for the fair record of a good name, all the parties in the male line of these tangled alliances, bear the name of George Washington.—[Ellsworth American.

PREPARATIONS FOR CHOLERA. The river is unusually high, and still rising, and is doing good work in washing pig pens and other filthy places. If its waters get high enough to take the place of some of the rum hid along its banks, cholera will have to look for victims in some other place.

—[Waterville Mail.

THE LAST FENIAN DEMONSTRATION.—The New Brunswick arrived here this morning from Eastport, bringing a large number of passengers, among whom were two hundred Fenians who are returning from the bloodless war on the frontier. These purchased cabin tickets, but the boat was so crowded that they could only get steerage passage, so the extra dollars were paid back. Nevertheless, they appropriated to themselves the choicest parts of the boat, and the Captain found himself powerless to restrain them by the rules of the vessel. All of them were armed with revolvers and asserted their rights with a strong hand, although there was no outbreak on the passage up.

After the Portland passengers had been landed, it was found that some of the two hundred were ashore. The boat whistled and waited some time, but they did not come. At last the Captain declared he could wait no longer, and started out. Those on board held a consultation, when the steamer was just outside the Breakwater she was taken in charge by the Brotherhood and compelled to put back. U. S. Marshal Clark was sent for, and immediately proceeded to the scene of action and found a tumultuous assemblage moved to daring deeds by a taste of foul whisky. The policy of the authorities was to divert the enemy, which they proceeded to do by declaring that the boat could not proceed till later in the day.

Many of the less affected party betook themselves to the Boston train, delaying it some twenty minutes. Perhaps a very few purchased tickets, but about one hundred manifested a determination to go at all risks, without money and without price.

Finally the train got off, and it will not be strange if some unpleasant collision occurs on the route, as the Irish blood is up. About the same time it was deemed prudent for the boat to proceed, which she did, leaving the wharf a few minutes past nine.

Had the police force been notified, there would have been arrests of the ringleaders of the party, but Marshal Clark, single-handed, used little but "strategy," and which, perhaps, was quite as well. We do not like to be uncharitable, but we think this demonstration will hardly hurry on the establishment of the Irish Republic.

RAILROAD TO SOLON. The project of building a railroad from some point on the Maine Central in Waterville, through Fairfield, Norridgewock, Madison, (or Starks,) Anson and Embden, to Solon, seems to be moving with considerable energy. A meeting was holden at Anson on Thursday last, another at Solon on Saturday, and a third at Norridgewock on Monday; all which were well attended, and gave good indications of a speedy commencement of the work.—[Anson Advocate.

—Brummell, in his decay, was wittier than in his best days. The attorney didn't follow up the subject.

—A church of the Baptist denomination in Chicago has just been dedicated. The cost is $200,000, and it is a magnificent edifice. A collection of $58,000 was obtained during the services of the day—46,000 in the morning, and $5000 in the evening.

Whig & Courier

Somebody'll Come To-Night.

I must bind my hair with the myrtle bough,
And gem it with buds of white,
And drive this blush from my burning brow,
For somebody'll come to-night;
And, while his eye shall discern a grace
In the braid and the folded flower,
He must not find, in my toil-tab fabe,
The spell of his wondrous power.

I must don the robe which he fondly calls
A cloud of enchanting light,
And sit where the mellowing moonlight falls,
For somebody'll come to-night;
And while the robe and the place shall seem
But the veriest freaks of chance,
'Tis sweet to know that his eye will beam
With a tenderer, happier glance.

'Twas thus I sang when the years were few
That lay on my girlish head,
And all the flowers that in fancy grew
Were tied with a golden thread.
And somebody came, and the whispers there
I cannot repeat them quite.
But I knew my soul went up in prayer,
And somebody's here to-night.

I blush no more at the whispered vow,
Nor sigh in the soft moonlight;
My robe has a tint of neither now.
And I sit by the anthracite;
And the locks that vied with the glossy wren
Have passed to the silver gray;
But the love that decked them with flowers then
Is a holier love to-day.

Mr. Nasby Pleads the Case of a Friend.

Confederit X Roads (which is in the Stait uv Kentucky,) March 19, 1866.

Yesterday I happened to pick up a kopy uv a friteful deprayed Ablishin paper, and my horror-stricken eyes wuz glued to the follerin passage, which I read:—

'I am happy to state to you that our free negroes are doing finely. We have no trouble with them. They have gone to work manfully. They give an impetus to trade that we never before had. I have sold John Guttle's negroes, this year and last, more goods than I ever sold Guttle, and he owned two hundred and fifty slaves. So you see the free negro system is working well with us.'

As I peroozed them lines, tears started involuntarily from my beaten eyes, and coursed in torrents down my venerable cheeks. I know John Guttle well, and I mhy say intimately. He wuz a dear friend, one uv the few which I kall friend in the most catholic and comprehensive sense uv the word. He holds my note for eighteen dollars and 63 cents, and I hev sumwhere among my papers, which I have alluz carefully preserved for reference, a memorandum uv his address, that I might be shoor not to forget to send it to him. I givel him the note becoz he furnished the paper, and it made him easy in his mind. I put down the memorandum bekoz it looked business-like. I konvolence is a prominent trait in my kanacter,—when givin my note for borrered money will do a man good, I never begrudge the trouble uv writin it.

But wat I wuz a going to say wuz, that the feendishness uv that thing passes belief. The writer puts it in print to show that the Ablishn uv slavry benefitted sumbody. I grant him that the merchant, who undoubtedly wuz born in Massachusetts, wuz benefitted by the change, so are the greesy mechanics who are now pollutin the soil uv Alabama, and so probably are the 250 niggers, but in the name of liberty, in the name uv Justice, in the name uv the Constertooshun uv the Koonited States, and flag uv our Common Country, I ask, how about John Guttle?

John Guttle is robbed. John Guttle is deprived uv his property, the bread is taken frum John Guttle's mouth, his staff is broken, his dependence is gone, he is bereft.

Never shall I forget John Guttle, or his hospitable mansion ez I vewed it in the happy years afore the crooel war. He wuz A gentleman uv the old skool,—one uv the few left us in these degenerate days. His His home wuz wun uv unalloyed happiness. Situated just back uv Mobeel, he had the finest plantashun in that section, and held on it 250 niggers. All shades wuz represented. There wuz the coal-black cuffee whose feechers denoted the pure Afrikin, and whose awkward manners showed that he wuz not long from Afrika. There wuz the civilized mulatto in whose veins the Guttle blood stood the quadoon in whom the good old Guttle blood predominated, and the octoroon which wuz mostly Guttle. The Guttleses wuz eminently a Christian generation,—they wuz devoutly pious, and there never wus one uv the name who could not repeat without the book all uv the texts bearin on slavery. The passages in which Onesimus and Hager figger wuz favorites with em, for, as 'cussid be Canaan,' they wuz strong. For generations they had mourned over the hard lot uv the sons uv Ham, doomed to perpetooal bondage becoz uv the sin uv their father; and with a missionary spirit equaled by few and excelled by none, they did their part towards redoosin that cuss by makin ez many of em ez possible, half-bruthers to the more favored race uv Japheth, and thus bringing uv em out of the cuss, and they had mellered the color uv their charges down from the hideous black to a bright yeller. Under the old patriarchle system, time passed orf smoothly and pleasantly with the Guttle family. Them 250 niggers wuz obliged uv course to work, and their labor wuz money. John bought each uv the male sons uv Ham too soots uv close per annum, and each uv the females sons uv Ham one soot. It wuz considered healthy for the little ones to go naked, which they wuz religiously allowed to do, ez none uv the Guttles uv that family wood do anything agin nater or her law. The girls had pianos, and wuz educated at the North; the boys wuz celebrated for horse racing and their skill at losing money at faro. They wuz hospitable and generous to a fault. Money wuz no objeck to them, for when they had a severe attack of poker or faro or hoss racin; they had plenty of octaroons and quadroons, with the real Guttle nose, which brand wuz well known in Noo Orleans, and would allux command the highest possible figure that wuz phid in that market. John Guttle's sons wuz all in the Confederate army; his daughters, willin to sacrifice everything for the cause, haroically pledged theirselves to whip the niggers doorin their absence.

Now all is changed. A shadder has fallen across that peneeful home. The nigger quarters is there, but the nigger is not. The broad plantashun is divided up into small farms, and half uv it is owned by Ablishinists from the North, and who work theirselves, and who hev a meetin house on one corner uv it, and the niggers a school house on the tother. The race track is plowed up and in cotton, the whippin post and the stocks is taken down, and burned;—all all the evidences uv civilization thez faded before she ruthless hand uv the invader. John Guttle, that generous old man, subsists by the labor uv his own hands, one uv his own sons okes out a miserable existence running a dray in Mobeel, another who is gifted with no ordinary intelleck, earns a respectable livid, playin seven-up in a small way with his former niggers, and the two girls is runnin a sewin masheen.

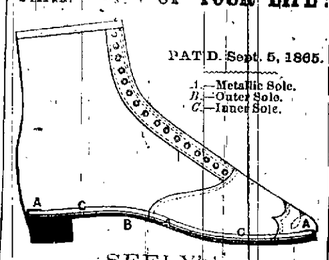

Talk not to me uv benefits. What is a dozen tradesmen and two hundred and fifty niggers to the glorious old Dimocratic John Guttle! What is the interest uv a dozen or so uv Noo England mechanics, and the niggers aforesaid, when compared to that glorious aristocracy which can never exist beside 'em? Kin I go and borrow eighteen dollars and sixty-three cents uv one uv them? No. Becoz working for their paltry living will not spread it around ez profoosely ez the noble race which preceded them.

Another great wrong is done in this settin free uv John Guttle's niggers. John Guttle hez uv course no further interest in the Dimocratic party. Slavery wuz the umbilikle cord which united the Southern slaveholder and the Northern Dimocrat, and that cord cut, why hez John Guttle any more interest in Dimocracy? We stood ez a Chinese wall between them and the rushin flood uv Ablishin fanaticism, and we made the wall bizniss pay. They furnished money and we did the work; and, there bein but few uv us, the orfisis wuz easily divided. Alas, our okepashin's gone. The Spoilt is forever lost to us, for she has no dirty work for us to do.

I appeal to the Yoonited States uv America. In behalf uv John Guttle I say give him back his niggers. In behalf uv the Dimocrisy North, who are outtuv employment, give him back his niggers. In behalf uv his son, who is runnin a dray, give him back his niggers. In behalf uv his daughters, runnin a sewing machine, give him back his niggers. Make things Normal again. Like John the Baptist, the Government shell hear the voice uv one howlin in the wilderness until all these is done.

A NEW INVENTION.

WETTING THE FEET is the most prolific cause of disease and death known to humanity. It is almost sure to bring on a cold; and colds, neglected, and often when not neglected, lead to fevers or to coughs and fatal consumptions. It is in recognition of this truth that the inventive talent of the country has for years been devising some method, or attempting to devise it, for keeping the feet dry, and yet that should not give inconvenience to the wearer. Rubber shoes, in one form or another, have hitherto been our reliance; but it is well known, as among their many evils, that while they keep the feet dry from exterior moisture, they sweat them overmuch, and by thus inducing an unnatural tenderness increase a susceptibility to colds rather than diminish it. They are also cumbersome to the feet, and withal are very expensive. The demand is for something that shall make the ordinary Boot and Shoe impervious to water without effecting their elegance or durability, and, if possible, without adding sensibly to the cost of manufacture. This, it will be conceded, are most important features, and we conscientiously affirm that they are absolutely attained in the invention herewith presented to the public.

The invention consists in inserting between the inner and outer sole, when the foot is making, a thin METALLIC PLATE, exceedingly ductile, combining flexibility with toughness, very light, and every way adapted to the end desired, while the additional expense is merely nominal. It furnishes a perfect barrier against the admission of wet or dampness, though the feet may be exposed ever so long upon wet pavements or damp ground.

To ladies and children the METALLIC SOLES will be of incalculable value, as from their habits of life and delicacy of dress, they are particularly exposed to the long trains of ills that attend upon an inadequate protection to the feet.

These Soles have already been tried by the best of all tests, ACTUAL USE, and the testimonials to their merits, freely proffered, indicate that they must be speedily and universally adopted by the public. The Patent Metallic Soled Boots and Shoes are being introduced into the leading Boot and Shoe Stores throughout the United States, and will supplant all forms of overshoes, except possibly for deep mud and snow, as they become known. Be sure to get them and no other. If your shoemaker does not happen to have them, he can procure them without difficulty. If he will not, then send yourself to the inventor one dollar and thirty cents, and obtain six pair, assorted sizes, with right to use, which will be promptly forwarded by mail or express, pre-paid, and which can be made up by any shoemaker in the country. Agencies will be established in every city and village, and supplied with Soles, and proprietary stamps, at schedule prices, and liberal commission allowed on sales. Also General Agencies for States appointed on application, with proper testimonials to the inventor.

TESTIMONIALS.

The undersigned have for the past six months worn Boots and Shoes possessing Mr. Seely's METALLIC SOLE, and find them to be an effectual preventive against dampness, and the colds so often taken from damp feet, most gladly do we testify to the perfect efficiency of their service. The Metallic Sole is not only a grand contribution to the cause of general health, but a positive luxury, obviating all necessity of India Rubber shoes, except in muddy weather. All ordinary dampness, and even water or puddle-ments, is completely foiled of its power of harm by this most simple and useful invention. No one who has once used them will ever be without them again, as they increase the cost of boots and shoes by a sum which is scarcely worth naming, and insure, positively, dry feet, which is reckoned among the first conditions of health and comfort. We heartily commend the "Metallic Sole" to all the sensible.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1865.

SAMUEL J. SEELY, Esq.:

Dear Sir—In reply to your inquiries regarding your Patent Metallic Sole, I take great pleasure in stating that I had them put in a pair of fine calf skid boots, which I wore the whole of last winter in the wet streets of Albany. I have had them half soled since, and am now wearing your Metallic Soles now, with full intention never to be without them. I have not had a wet or damp foot during the whole time I have worn them. I pronounce them the best insole yet made. I am satisfied that no person having once worn them will ever do without them.—Wishing you the success you deserve for so valuable an invention for the preservation of health,

I remain truly yours,
SAMUEL JEFFERSON,
Contractor, New York.

MR. SAMUEL J. SEELY:

Dear Sir—I take great pleasure in offering my testimony to the usefulness and comfort of your Patent Metallic Sole. I have used a pair of boots for the past seven months, furnished with this Sole, and feel no hesitation in saying that I have never worn shoes that combined so perfectly the desirable qualities of dryness and durability.

EMMA OVERTON, Brooklyn, New York.

S. J. SEELY, Esq.:

Dear Sir—In answer to your request, I am pleased to state that I have manufactured shoes containing your Metallic Sole by machinery. I think them a superior article for keeping the feet dry. In manufacturing them there is no trouble from cutting the thread when sewing, nor any difficulty in putting them in the shoe. Respectfully yours,

STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips. A teaspoonful a day of the Constitution Water will relieve you like magic.

PHYSICIANS

Have long since given up the use of buchu, cubebs and juniper in the treatment of these diseases, and only use them for the want of a better remedy.

CONSTITOTION WATER

Has proved itself equal to the task that has devolved upon it.

DIURETICS

Irritate and drench the kidneys, and by constant use soon lead to chronic degeneration and confirmed disease.

We present the Constitution Water to the public with the conviction that it has no equal in relieving the class of diseases for which it has been found so eminently successful in curing; and we trust that we shall be rewarded for our efforts in placing so valuable a remedy in a form to meet the requirements of patient and physician.

STROUDSBURG, PA., Jan 20, 1866.

DR. GREGG:

Dear Sir:—I wish to inform you that I have been under the treatment of some of our best physicians for nearly two years, without receiving any benefit. I had lost all confidence, and I indulged in but little hope of a cure from any source. My disease was Dropsy, and my physicians told me that there was no cure for me. I was tapped some fifty times, and at the different operations about 1200 pounds of water was removed.

I am happy to inform you that I have been completely restored to health by the use of Constitution Water.

I make this statement hoping it may reach those persons who may be similarly afflicted.

Respectfully,
MRS. MARGILL C. LEVANWAY.

IN DYSMENORRHŒA, OR PAINFUL MENSTRUATION, AND MENORRHAGIA, OR PROFUSE FLOWING.

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menstrual fluid—in one case being too little and accompanied by severe pain, and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cured by the Constitution Water.

That disease known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments of that organ, and is known by a sense of heaviness and dragging pains in the back and sides and at times accompanied by sharp, lancinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, in all cases, be removed by the medicine.

There is another class of symptoms arising from IRRITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness, which word covers up much ignorance, and in nine cases out of ten the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms. We can only enumerate them here. I speak more particularly of Cold Feet, Palpitation of the Heart, Impaired Memory, Wakefulness, Flashes of Heat, Languor, Lassitude, and Dimness of Vision.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

DANVILLE, Pa., June, 1862.—Dr. William H. Gregg—Dear Sir:—In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as terror twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured, soon after regaining my usual good health.

Yours truly, J. V. L. DE WITT.

BOSTON CORNERS, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1861.—Wm. H. Gregg & Co.—Gents:—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following certificate of the value of the Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner:—My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back, and in her limbs, with palpitation of the heart and irritation of the bladder. I called a physician, who attended her about three months, when he left her worse than he found her. I then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her for about nine months, and while she was under his care she did not suffer quite as much pain. He finally gave her up, and said "her case was incurable. For," said he, "she has such a combination of complaints that medicine given for one operates against some other of her difficulties." About this time she commenced to use the Constitution Water, and to our utter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly under its treatment, and now superintends entirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure.

WM. M. VAN BEUSCHOTEN.

WEATHERSFIELD, Conn., March 2, 1863.—Dr. W. H. Gregg.—Dear Sir,—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for Inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years, and tried the skill of a number of physicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle of your agents at Hartford, Messrs. Lee, Sisson & Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise, I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it; I feel that it is all and more than you recommended it to be. May the blessing of God ever attend you in your labors of love.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in those and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restoratives, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.
